

Whose World Is It?

Look at these pictures.

Take your time to really look at them, study them and feel connected to them

What do the pictures make you think about, what do they remind you of and how do they make you feel. Annotate your pictures or write on some post it notes

Choose one particular picture which has the most effect on you

Look in great detail and imagine you are in the picture.

Place yourself carefully:

- What can you see from there?
- What can you smell?
- What can you hear?
- How do you feel?
- Can you touch things near to where you are?
- What do they feel like?
- Would you like to move to another place in the picture? Or stay where you are?

Whose World Is It?

Now look at these pictures.

Take your time to really look at them, study them and feel connected to them.

What do the pictures make you think about, what do they remind you of and how do they make you feel.

Annotate your pictures or write on some post it notes

Choose one particular picture which has the most effect on you

Look in great detail and imagine you are in the picture.

Place yourself carefully:

- What can you see from there?
- What can you smell?
- What can you hear?
- How do you feel?
- Can you touch things near to where you are?
- What do they feel like?
- Would you like to move to another place in the picture? Or stay where you are?

It is our collective and individual responsibility to preserve and tend the world in which we all live

The world was created by God to be cared for by humans.

The environment and the economy are really both two sides of the same coin. If we cannot sustain the environment we cannot sustain ourselves

I only feel angry when I see waste. When I see people throwing away things we could use

Nature is a miracle which we depend upon

“The world should be cared for so that it can be enjoyed by future generations.”

The world is a treasure chest for humans to open and use the contents as they wish.

He who plants trees loves others beside himself

The world is big and should be looked at before it gets dark

The Earth does not belong to us: we belong to the Earth

READ THE STATEMENTS ABOVE AND RANK THEM ACCORDING TO WHICH YOU THINK ARE MOST IMPORTANT. WRITE A SENTENCE BESIDE EACH, EXPLAINING WHY YOU HAVE GIVEN THAT STATEMENT ITS RANK.