

Paired read – work in pairs read 1 sentence each to partner then swap for next sentence etc )partner kindly points out and errors or supports)

Theodore “Teddy” Roosevelt (1858–1919), was responsible for putting a name to the teddy bear phenomenon after a newspaper cartoon pictured him refusing to shoot an injured bear on a hunting trip. (“Teddy’s bear” became a buzz phrase.) Despite giving his blessing for stuffed-animal makers to describe their bears as “Teddys,” Roosevelt—whose childhood nickname was “Teedie” or “Teddy” —was no fan of the nickname! He liked being called “Colonel Roosevelt” in his later years. While on safari, his African escorts called him “Bwana Tumbo,” or “Mr. Unusually Large Belly.”

HE PRACTICALLY KEPT A ZOO WHILE HE WAS PRESIDENT

Roosevelt’s White House was no place for anyone skittish over animals. In addition to the numerous dogs, rabbits, and horses, the president also kept snakes, flying squirrels, chickens, bears, a lion, a zebra, and what he described as a “friendly and affectionate” rat.

What does the word phenomenon mean? (vocabulary)

_____

How does the author make the reader feel by using the word injured? (explain)

_____

Roosevelt was no fan of the nickname “Teddy”

TRUE / FALSE

Was it Teddy’s bear?

FACT/ OPINION

Theodore “Teddy” Roosevelt (1858-1919), was responsible for putting a name to the teddy bear phenomenon after a newspaper cartoon pictured him refusing to shoot an injured bear on a hunting trip. (“Teddy’s bear” became a buzz phrase.) Despite giving his blessing for stuffed-animal makers to describe their bears as “Teddys,” Roosevelt—whose childhood nickname was “Teedie” or “Teddy” —was no fan of the nickname! He liked being called “Colonel Roosevelt” in his later years. While on safari, his African escorts called him “Bwana Tumbo,” or “Mr. Unusually Large Belly.”

HE PRACTICALLY KEPT A ZOO WHILE HE WAS PRESIDENT

Roosevelt’s White House was no place for anyone skittish over animals. In addition to the numerous dogs, rabbits, and horses, the president also kept snakes, flying squirrels, chickens, bears, a lion, a zebra, and what he described as a “friendly and affectionate” rat.

Find and copy a group of words that are proper nouns (vocabulary)

_____
_____
_____
_____
_____

How do you think the character felt about adventure? (support your answer with evidence from the text) (inference)

_____
_____
_____