Curriculum

This week, you will need to know all about Greta Thunberg in order to write your persuasive letter. Use books, newspapers and/or the internet to find out as much as you can.

Creative

You have the chance to finish off any artwork you might have started or start a new piece of your choice, inspired by Giacomo Balla's Street Light.

Reading

This week's extract is from Greta Thunberg's famous "how dare you?" speech. See the timetable for activities. To listen to a story, copy this link and scan the QR code.

English

Mr Keith and Miss Barrington spotted a news article that caught our interest all about Greta Thunberg. This week you are challenged to persuade her to continue with her climate change activism using your letter writing skills.

Maths

In Maths this week we will be continuing with our White Rose scheme by starting to look at different methods for multiplication. This will lead us into short multiplication which is a key method that you will learn to use. There are some alternative activities on the timetable in case you would like a little break from the White Rose worksheets .

Music

Can you create your own instrument at home using recycling? Try a guitar out of a box and rubber bands or maracas out of a container and peas or lentils.

Don't forget to practise your handwriting and kinetic letters poses too!

Science

Continuing with the theme of electricity, you will be learning about conductors and insulators.

PE

We have more exciting PE games to help you improve your fitness.

Spellings

creation, radiation, indication, ventilation, relegation, dedication, demonstration, abbreviation, translation, vibration.
