Dear Mr Smith,

I have been a pupil at Spring Primary for the last seven years, I feel it is now my job to write to you about how students feel about school uniform. For a long time, we have felt that a school uniform is old fashioned and not practical. By writing this letter, I hope to show you that this is the case, and persuade you to change this rule.

Firstly, a recent survey conducted by the school council showed that most children would like to wear their own clothes to school. As a Head Teacher, it is your job to listen to and think about any opinions of your students and to discuss them. As the school council are from all the classes in the school, it is important that you listen to any information they have about what pupils want.

Secondly, myself and my friends feel comfier in our own clothes. This is important as the more comfortable we feel, the more we are able to concentrate on the work we are doing. If we are always fiddling with stiff collars, itchy trousers and tight shoes, this distracts us in lessons and stops us from learning. Therefore, wearing our own clothes would help us in our learning time and help us to do better in school.

Finally, our parents would also benefit from the move to not wearing school uniform. Parents would no longer have to rush to get our uniforms washed and ironed in time for Monday. It would also save money as they would not have to buy uniform. Good quality school uniform that lasts does not come cheap! The money they save could be put towards school fund to buy new books, or stationery resources for our home, so we are able to complete our homework.

As you can see, there are many strong arguments as to why the children of Spring Primary school should be able to get rid of their uniforms and wear comfier, more stylish and useful home clothes.

Please think about what I have said in this letter carefully. My friends and I look forward to finding out what you decide.

Yours sincerely

Tom Banks
