

PSHE Scenarios

Read each scenario. What advice would you give these children who are feeling disappointed?

Sika was really looking forward to going to visit her auntie and her cousins at the weekend. She was going to travel on the train and they had planned a special sleepover and were going to order a pizza and watch a movie. On the day that Sika was going to catch the train with mum, it snowed very heavily and Sika couldn't travel.

Lucy has been working really hard at school this week. She wrote a fantastic story, she got all of her Maths work correct and she did some really great research in her curriculum lessons. On Friday, she thought that she would get star of the week, but her best friend was picked instead.

Andrew had been planning his superhero-themed birthday party for weeks. He had helped his mum to pick out the cake and fill all the party bags for his friends. A couple of days before his birthday party, Andrew's sister caught chickenpox and his mum said they would have to cancel his party so nobody else caught it.

San jay was really excited to compete in the gymnastics competition. He had been practising for months and his coach said he might even win. On the day before the competition, San jay fell off his trampoline and broke his leg. He won't be able to take part in any competitions for a while.
